Product Description

Apple MacBook Neo

The Apple MacBook Neo is a lightweight and affordable laptop designed for everyday productivity, education, and basic professional use. Positioned as an entry-level MacBook, it focuses on delivering reliable performance, long battery life, and seamless macOS integration in a compact and portable design. Powered by an efficient Apple silicon chip, it handles daily tasks such as browsing, document work, streaming, and light creative work with ease. Its minimal and durable aluminum design makes it suitable for students and users who need a dependable and portable computing device.
